Consider creating a password policy.A password policy should include: - Purpose and scope. - A set of definitions relevant to passwords. - A description of employees' roles in administering the password policy. - Procedures on how to create a password. - Password administration activities.
- Password resetting. - Procedures for misused passwords. - Penalties for unauthorized password activities.Read more: - <a